site within a few days. They will make every effort to have everything ready for the holding of the convention.

All the members said at the close of the meeting yesterday that they would give their hearty support to making the fair to be held on the McDonald site an exhibition of which Kentucky might be proud.

Mr. Hughes' Resignation.

The resignation of Mr. Hughes was presented in writing and is as follows:

To the State Board of Agriculture—Gentlemen: You will recall that I accepted the State Fair secretaryship last February under protest and only after I had been made to see that a public duty would be performed. It was never my intention to continue in the office more than one year.

I was naturally very much gratified at the close of the September exhibition to find the members of the board very desirous of having me accept the position again.

My time expired on December 1, 1907. I would like to have it brought to a close a few months sooner, and therefore hereby tender my resignation to take effect January 5, 1908.

The intervening time will enable me to close the smallest details of the office. The resignation is tendered at this time for the reason that State board meetings are not frequently held. I desire to thank the officers and members of the board for their courtesy at all times and for their active co-operation. Very respectfully yours, R. H. HUGHES, Secretary State Fair.

What the Property Is.

The property known as the McDonald tract, decided upon yesterday as a permanent site for the Kentucky State Fair, contains, according to the map, 159 acres. The tract is in the shape of an L and is about one-half mile distant from the river, being separated from it by the Joseph W. Garr and the James T. Duffy tracts. The distance from the nearest point of the McDonald tract to the courthouse is about three and one-half miles, while the distance from the farthest point of the courthouse is about four and one-fourth miles. The tract is owned by the heirs of Jesse J. Brown and Morris McDonald, both of New Albany, Ind.

C. J. Moddica, who negotiated the deal for the tract, says that 150 acres was sold to the board. This will probably cut off nine acres running parallel with the west side of the Greenwood cemetery and leave a rectangular shaped plot of ground. It is about half a mile south of the Greenwood cemetery street car line. The boulevard, which it has been proposed to build connecting all the parks out the western half of the tract.

FIFTY MILLIONS FOR WATERWAYS

Asked By the Rivers and Harbors Congress.

That Amount Should Be Spent Annually.

Bond Issue If Funds Are Not Available.

DELEGATES SEE PRESIDENT.

Washington, Dec. 6.—An annual appropriation of at least $50,000,000 for the improvement and development of the waterways of America is the gist of the recommendations of the Rivers and Harbors Congress which concluded its sessions here today.

No particular piece was advocated by the convention, the recommendations of the Committee on Resolutions, which were adopted unanimously, being that a national policy for the improvement of internal waterways be adopted by the Congress of the United States.

At the opening of to-day's session of the convention telegrams were read from Senator Perkins, industrial organizations and commercial bodies of California, inviting the congress to hold its next annual meeting in San Francisco.

In introducing John A. Fox, of Arkansas, the special director of the congress, President Randall said that Mr. Fox had spent the past year in traveling over the country and in doing splendid work for the congress.

Director Fox's Report.

In the course of his report Mr. Fox said that during the past year he had visited twenty-six States and twenty-nine cities; had given out forty-four public interviews, written five magazine articles and had delivered 153 addresses, nine of which had been before national organizations.

He was satisfied that if the United States Congress was in possession of the information which he had presented the work of the Congress practically would have been accomplished. He urged the appropriation by the association of $40,000 for the continuance of its work during the next year.

Col. J. F. Ellison, secretary of the congress, whom President Randall characterized as "one of the finest workers and organizers in the country," presented his annual report, in which he gave the expenditures on behalf of the National Congress during the past year. The balance on hand, he said, was $2,724.

J. Hampton Moore, of Philadelphia, chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, presented the platform of the association as the unanimous sentiment of thirty-six States, and he said that the committee requested the approval of the report in the hope that it would receive the respectful consideration of the National Congress.

The Platform.

The platform as read is as follows:

After a year's consideration of the aims and purposes of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress as expressed in resolutions adopted by that body in 1906, the American people have given them their hearty endorsement by sending to this convention assembled at the national capitol, delegates from thirty-seven States and territories, representing the commercial, industrial, agricultural and other interests of the country, and these delegates have unanimously adopted the following platform:

First—That profitable and successful commerce is absolutely dependent upon economical transportation of commodities, and that the importance of transportation in our material and social progress is increasing with the development of the nation's resources.

Second—That the railroads of the United States are now unable to handle the business offered them and much loss results from the congested condition of traffic, that according to high railroad authority the business of the country has increased over 100 per cent. within ten years, while the facilities for handling it by rail have increased only about 20 per cent. and that the railroads cannot be expected in the near future to increase their facilities sufficiently to relieve the situation.

Third—That transportation of heavy commodities by water on all rivers and inland waterways is a more economical, usually quicker than by rail; that no country in the world has been so blessed by nature with water courses as this; and that if properly improved and connected by convenient means of shipping enormous volumes of freight, thereby relieving the congestion on the railroads and furnishing cheap and safe transportation for the benefit of producer and consumer.

Should Be More Liberal.

Fourth—That the time has come when the policy of the Federal Government toward waterways over which it rightly has supreme control, should be more liberal, persistent and continuous than heretofore; that the improvement of the nation's waterways is one of the most important and meritorious works of importance begun many years ago and still far from completion; that appropriations for rivers, waterways and harbors have been made at intervals for three years instead of annually; that for the last three years they have averaged only about $2,000,000 a year; that the average annual expenditures of the Government, and that enough money should be appropriated each year for at least $50,000,000, properly to improve the various rivers, waterways and harbors on plans which have been and shall be surveyed and approved by the Government.

Fifth—That the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, at the present session, containing delegates of every shade of opinion as to the importance of every business interest in the land, standing for a policy, not for a project.

Sixth—That we earnestly urge the adoption by the Federal Government of a wide, liberal and comprehensive policy which will provide for the proper improvement, within the next ten years, of the waterways and harbors of our country, the improvement of which is justified by present and prospective benefits to commerce.

Second—That without presuming to prescribe the engineering and financial details of this great undertaking, this congress strongly urges upon the Congress of the United States the importance of the immediate adoption of a comprehensive plan of waterway improvement, of the carrying on of the work by an adequate number of engineers, and of such liberal appropriations annually as

MADE THREATS

Would Go To Frankfort and Shoot Them Out.

Testimony Shows Jim Howard Was "Sent For"

To Go To Capitol and "See What He Could Do."

EVIDENCE OF CONSPIRACY.

George town, Ky., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Evidence that Jim Howard, the convicted murderer of William Goebel, had been "sent for" to come to the State Capitol to "see what he could do," and that he appeared at the western entrance of the Executive building with a number of armed men at his back, to look out upon the assassin's victim within four or five minutes after the shot was fired, and was later seen fleeing through the rear grounds of the Capitol, went to the jury from the lips of Commonwealth's witnesses in the case of Caleb Powers in the Scott Circuit Court today.

The testimony was competent, the convicted murderer being indicted together with the defendant on trial. Testimony as to these facts went to the jury from disinterested and reputable men who were in Frankfort during January, 1900, one of these witnesses being Judge James H. Hazelrigg, then Chief Justice of the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

Details of Conspiracy.

Other details of the conspiracy charged by the Commonwealth were also related to-day before the jury, these being of the issuing by Taylor of a pardon to Caleb Powers and his brother, John L. Powers, and others, on March 10, 1900; the secret carriage of arms from the State arsenal to the office of the Adjutant General, Dan R. Collier, and to the home of W. S. Taylor; of quartering of State troops secretly in the arsenal immediately after the election and on down to the day of the assassination; of an attempt by Gen. Collier to arrange code signals with which the more readily to get soldiers to the State Capitol grounds, and of the arming and equipping of those soldiers in the arsenal, even to blankets and overcoats, the morning of the shooting and within an hour before the shot rang out.

Threats by Defendant.

In addition to this strong evidence the jurors were told of open threats by the defendant, by his brother John L. Powers, and by James Sparks, late of London, who had been connected with him in the movement of the "mountain army." It was testified that as early as election day, 1899, the defendant was saying that he was one man who was ready to take his gun and go down to Frankfort and "shoot them out," meaning the Democratic officials, if they could not be gotten out by any other means. It was testified that John L. Powers declared on January 18 that, there would be bloodshed at Frankfort if Goebel attempted to take his seat, and that he would be willing himself to shoot him. It was testified by two additional witnesses, several having testified along the same line yesterday, that James Sparks had declared that Goebel would be killed before he took the seat of Governor and that Taylor would protect the man who did the killing.

Sixteen Witnesses Heard.

The testimony of sixteen witnesses went to the jury at to-day's session of court. Twelve of that number testified in person, and the evidence of the remaining four was read to the jury from former trials, they having died since first being called to the witness stand in trials of Caleb Powers. The witnesses appearing in person were: Judge J. H. Hazelrigg, of Frankfort; J. C. Lackey, former jailer of Madison county; Julian Kersey, formerly of Frankfort, now a policeman at Louisville; Bowman Gaines, of Frankfort; J. Campbell Cantrell, of Georgetown; Col. E. L. Lillard, of Nicholasville; John E. Miles, of Frankfort; H. V. McChesney, secretary of State, and Miss Ella Smith, of Barbourville, the only woman witness of the trial to this point. The witnesses who testimony was read to the jury are: James F. Dalley and Dudley Williamson, of Frankfort; F. M. Hurst, of Millersburg; Bourbon county, given at the second trial, Court took a recess before it was read.

Afternoon Session.

When court met again at 2 o'clock Stenographer Walker read the testimony of F. M. Hurst, of Millersburg, who shot J. D. Watkins, a witness on the top floor of the Executive building.

AVERAGE OF 103

Bids To the Amount of $25,000,000 Accepted.

OFFERS FOR CANAL BONDS FROM ALL SECTIONS.

PAYMENTS TO BE MADE WITHIN TEN DAYS.

THE SITUATION IN GENERAL.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The Secretary of the Treasury has accepted bids for the Panama canal bonds to the amount of $25,000,000. The average price of all the bids accepted is 103. Under the terms of the law and the Secretary's acceptance of these bids, the allotments of bonds to individuals and institutions will be reduced to the amount of $20,000,000 down to $20.

The amount of bids from individuals and institutions which it has been possible to accept will, as heretofore, not be large. The remainder of the acceptances will be bids of national banks.

The bids accepted have come from every section of the country and are mostly in small amounts, the Secretary Cortelyou further says that the notices of acceptances will be mailed to the successful bidders within the least possible delay. The notices will state that payments for the bonds will be expected to be made at the Treasury of the United States, or at some sub-treasury, as indicated in the bids of the subscribers, within ten days from the receipt of the notice by the subscriber.

The offering of Panama canal bonds was largely over-subscribed, but the improvement in business conditions following the announcement of recent measures of relief by the Treasury Department is expected to result in a large number of the subscribers to the bonds at this time to half the amount of the disbursements from the general fund of the Treasury that have been made during the year on the Panama canal account.

The allotments of the 3 per cent. certificates will not, the Secretary says, exceed $15,000,000. These have been confined to national banks throughout the country which will be in position to take out at once additional circulation, this being a measure designed to afford immediate relief.

Arrested Whitaker.

John E. Miles, of Frankfort, told of arresting Harlan Whitaker at the doorway of the executive building within a few minutes after the shooting of Goebel and the escape of the assassin. He identified him as having been among the men on the steps of the executive building just following the shooting. He identified Harry Howard as being among the men on the steps of the building, and pointed in the direction where Goebel fell. He also glanced about across at the windows of the Capitol building.

On cross-examination, Col. Smith asked Judge Hazelrigg if J. D. Matthews was not the man on the steps whom he thought was Howard. The response was that he was not sure, but that he was not the man there.

"My best impression has always been that the man was Jim Howard, that is my impression, though, of course, I could not be positive about it."

Why did you remain behind the other judges of the court in the court room?

"I had received information regarding myself that made me think it was the safest place for me at that time."

The Commonwealth next offered and read the first witness of to-day's trial by J. E. Dalley, of Frankfort, now dead. Dalley, like Judge Hazelrigg, identified Jim Howard as having been among the men on the steps of the executive building just following the shooting. TALKS TO CONGRESS

Roosevelt Discusses Railroad Situation With Governor.

CARAMEL IN WHISKY NOT GROUND FOR SEIZURE.

COMMISSIONER ISSUES INSTRUCTIONS TO REVENUE AGENTS.

FINANCIAL DEBATE MONDAY.

Washington, Dec. 6.—(Special.)—The President both yesterday and to-day interviewed Mr. J. M. C. Comer, of Alabama, who is here as a delegate to the Rivers and Harbors Congress. The President desired to discuss with him the situation which has arisen in Alabama owing to the sweeping injunctions issued by Federal Judge Jones. It is inferred that the President is naturally anxious that the Governor take no course out of which might grow a conflict between the State and Federal troops. His interviews with the Governor have been entirely for the purpose of gaining information on the controversy and expressing the hope that a settlement can be reached through the courts.

Instructions Collectors.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has notified collectors that seizures or detentions of spirits are not to be made where the presence of a seizure or detention is the presence of caramel coloring. The Commissioner says that it is not now considered an offense to add caramel to spirits, pending the decision of the Supreme Court in the Graft case. Taxpayers, acting under the announced policy of this office, should not be disturbed and caused to make offers in compromise on this account.

Debate On Currency Expected.

Among the important matters which the Senate is expected to take up early next week are the Currency and Clay resolutions, calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for information respecting public deposits and also the Panama canal bond allotments and allotments of the 3 per cent. certificates of indebtedness.

The resolutions went over again yesterday afternoon, owing to the absence of Senator Aldrich, chairman of the Finance Committee. It is thought that the discussion of the resolutions in which the Democrats are likely to say some pretty sharp things at the expense of Mr. Cortelyou, will open up debate on the currency and the need for currency legislation, though the Republicans will avoid this if possible.

Santa Claus Recognized.

Uncle Sam to-day officially took his hat to Santa Claus, by handing the annual Christmas mail with the greatest possible dispatch, the Post-office Department forward a red letter to all the other Government departments and bureaus, that as far as possible, they delay sending out the official publications until after the rush is over.

Some people are unaware of the magnitude of the Christmas mail, which is handled by the Post-office Department. The increase in fourth-class packages is about 3,000 per cent.

Wants To Resign.

The Lemon, Morgan county, post-office is the one that postmaster, Mr. Minnie Phillips, is trying to resign. He has written to the Post-office Department to resign, but the department has refused to accept his resignation, saying that he is not a proper person to be postmaster of the office.

Minor Washington Matters.

The President made another statement against the third term to-day. It was in response to an expression of support from Samuel W. Watts, a Pennsylvania banker, who had written the President saying that "I am grateful to the American people for their kindly feeling toward me, and I am sure that I shall be able to do something for them."

It is expected that Speaker Cannon will appoint Representative Greene, of Massachusetts, to the General Assembly.

Representative Langley, of the Tenth district, has recommended the appointment of the following members: John Smith, White, Knox county; Felix Pence, Filmore, Lee county; S. H. Hurst, Peartree, Breathitt county.

M. F. Johnson, of Hartley, Pike county, has been appointed a clerk in the Department of Commerce and Labor, salary $300.

Representative Edwards, of the Eleventh district, will be the only member of the delegation to attend Gov. Wilson's inauguration in the State of Georgia.

Jury Fails To See Any Damage Resulting and Finds For Defendant.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—The suit of Dr. J. E. Hunter, the most pretentious negro of Lexington, against the C. and O. Railroad Company for $1200 damages, was tried to-day and resulted in a verdict for the defendant.

The plaintiff alleged that on May 3 he was returning from Louisville on the C. and O. train and was in the car when the conductor, Dr. Hunter, claimed that the smoke made him sick and from its effects he was very ill for six days. Judgment was asked for $1200 at the rate of $200 a day for Dr. Hunter's illness. The jury was out only five minutes and returned a verdict for the defendant.

CONDUCTOR'S CIGAR

MADE NEGRO SICK, SO HE SUEVED RAILROAD.

Jury Fails To See Any Damage Resulting and Finds For Defendant.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—The suit of Dr. J. E. Hunter, the most pretentious negro of Lexington, against the C. and O. Railroad Company for $1200 damages, was tried to-day and resulted in a verdict for the defendant.

The plaintiff alleged that on May 3 he was returning from Louisville on the C. and O. train and was in the car when the conductor, Dr. Hunter, claimed that the smoke made him sick and from its effects he was very ill for six days. Judgment was asked for $1200 at the rate of $200 a day for Dr. Hunter's illness. The jury was out only five minutes and returned a verdict for the defendant.

LENS SCORES
ANOTHER WIN

Beats The Bear In A Desperate Race At City Park.

FOURTH STRAIGHT VICTORY.

LONG SHOTS HAVE GOOD DAY.

NEW ORLEANS SELECTIONS.

First Race—DeReske, Telescope, Pride of Woodstock.
Second Race—Magie, Profitable, Peter Beger.
Third Race—Marbles, E. T. Ship, L. Jeunisse.
Fourth Race—Lotus, Eater, Juggler, Elison.
Fifth Race—Robin Hood, Ace High, Sally Preston.
Sixth Race—Belleview, Rebounder, Flavius.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—Lens scored his fourth straight victory in a head finish this afternoon with The Bear, the Western record-breaker, in the purse event, and it made the sixth victory at this meeting for Lens' owner, Pat Dunne.

With the riders reversed The Bear probably would have won. Princes Ahmed was caught in a pocket in the stretch, Lens and The Bear were driven to the limit, while J. C. Ferris, Jr.'s colt had some things to say as well.

L. S. B., a long shot, was the medium of a big coup. He opened at 30 to 1 and closed at 10 to 1. Bonart carried the bulk of the money. L. S. B. easily drew away from him in the stretch run.

Rated at 12 to 1, the colt sustained a $3000 loss to this race. Taskmaster was a hot favorite in the opening event, but Apache, which finished third to Georgia Girl, made a runaway race of it and won at 13 to 1 by a length and a half. Whisker, a supposed good thing in the third event, ran miserably. L. A. Colla's Rustle easily won the race, and Charles and Todd Cella and their followers realized handsomely as a consequence. Another favorite, Miss Strome, went down to defeat when hung on with bulidog tenacity in the last twenty yards and finished first by half a length.

Daisy Belle received a superior ride from Nottor and captured the final event by a head. Charles and Todd Cella and their followers realized handsomely as a consequence. Another favorite, Miss Strome, went down to defeat when hung on with bulidog tenacity in the last twenty yards and finished first by half a length.

Marie O'Neill was badly buffeted in the first quarter and her rider, P. Kelley, was unseated. The boy sustained a broken collarbone. Nottor piloted two winners and Pat Dunne's colt finished first in two events. Jockey Cook was set down ten days ago. Jockey Smith was suspended for four days.

Western Jockey Club rules will govern the fair grounds race meeting which begins next Monday. This was officially announced this evening and means a change of weights. The new rule is that year-olds are eligible for the inaugural race at this place. The rule was changed by O'Neill, owners of Chautauque, who offered W. H. Pizer $500 for his Derby horse, Arthur, to race in the inaugural race of the ring here and who officiated in that capacity at the Empire City track, says that he knows nothing of the rule change from the East that John G. Cavanaugh will handle the race. The new rule is that Butler track next year. His manner indicates that McAvanagh would not support him on the point of editing the race. The offering to-day was a good one. Several of the favorites were in the race. Six events decided, with a handicap in the fourth at six furlongs studding the way as a feature.

Taskmaster was accorded the main support in the day's opener when a game of two-year-olds sold for $1000. He was out from the five and one-half furlongs mark. On form he was the favorite. Burlew & O'Neill candidate was in, and the public went to him, hook, line and sinker, at odds of 10 to 1. The favorite of the evening, Sumter got him off well from the front, but O'Neill's leader with Apache, who the result that the latter overhauled his opponent and won well in hand. The favorite of the day was 8 to 1. Firmament had to rest content with third honors.

The talent received a body blow in the second that they will not soon forget, for all the favorites were unseated and the loss of bottled-up good things, it happened in the running of this race. What is more, the horses were unseated and it was the stable connections and a race that backed L. S. B. from 30 to 1 down to 10 to 1. The favorite of the day was 8 to 1. Firmament had to rest content with third honors.

That Pat Dunne is a good one in Lens was evidenced in the handicap in the fourth, when the crack son of Star Shoot won his fourth consecutive race. The night carried many commissions at odds of 2 to 1, and was accorded a great ovation when his rider, McDonald, returned the judge's stand after the race. The Bear was second and Prince Ahmed third.

First Race—Five and one-half furlongs; Apache, 100 (W. O. 12) to 1; 1. Taskmaster, 30 (J. 12) to 1; 2. Rustle, 100 (W. O. 12) to 1; 3. Prince Ahmed, 100 (W. O. 12) to 1; 4. Rustle, 100 (W. O. 12) to 1; 5. Rustle, 100 (W. O. 12) to 1; 6. Rustle, 100 (W. O. 12) to 1; 7. Rustle, 100 (W. O. 12) to 1; 8. Rustle, 100 (W. O. 12) to 1; 9. Rustle, 100 (W. O. 12) to 1; 10. Rustle, 100 (W. TRADE UNION COUNCIL

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1907

FATHER AND SON

One After Other Lose Their Official Heads.

SENATOR CHARLTON AND TYLER CHARLTON OUT.

J. HENRY HOERTZ, WHARFMASTER, ASKED TO RESIGN.

WM. NEAL FOURTH DROPPED.

Three hours after Senator Albert Charlton, for nine years cement inspector for the city, resigned yesterday, his son, Tyler Charlton, who held the position of assistant inspector of cement, was told by the Board of Public Works that his services were no longer needed. Senator Charlton received a salary of $3 a day from the city, while the position that was held by his son had a salary of $12.5 a day attached.

Others who were notified by the Board of Public Works yesterday that their services could be dispensed with are J. Henry Hoertz, wharfmaster, and William Neal, assistant clerk in the department of sewers and drains. The position held by Mr. Hoertz has a salary of $2,500 a year, attached, while that which was held by Mr. Neal paid a salary of $1 a month. The resignation of Senator Charlton and the retirement of his son and Mr. Neal took effect immediately. The board, in notifying Mr. Hoertz that his services were no longer needed, also notified him that his resignation to the board not later than Friday, December 13. The board also announced that the salary of wharfmaster will be cut to $1,800 a year.

Senator Charlton In For Years.

Senator Charlton, who is a holdover senator from the thirty-eighth district, has been in the employ of the Board of Public Works for twenty years.

Many Wanted Hoertz Retained.

In asking for Mr. Hoertz's resignation, the Board of Public Works did so in the face of a petition signed by almost every important shipper in Louisville, and by almost every person in Louisville interested in the river business. It is probable that he will seek to "ride out" his term by tendering his resignation on Thursday, December 13.

Special Train Service To Inauguration, Frankfort.

The Twelfth Ward Republican Club will run a special train to Frankfort via Louisville and Nashville railroad, December 10, on account of inauguration of Gov. Wilson. FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MR. FERRY THURSDAY.

The funeral of James J. Ferry, district passenger agent of the Northern Pacific railroad at Cincinnati, O., took place in the city Thursday. Mr. Ferry was formerly a citizen of Louisville, where he had many friends and acquaintances. The funeral took place at his late home, 309 Sturgis avenue, at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and at a Catholic church at 10 o'clock. Among the pallbearers were Charles F. Grainger, of Louisville, was a pallbearer.

Mr. Ferry was married twenty-two years ago to Miss Hattie M. Maxwell, who survives him with six children. Misses Catherine, Harriet and Masters James J. Austin, Louis and Harvey Little. Mr. Ferry, D. H. Mussey is a brother-in-law. Mrs. Mussey died three years ago and Mr. Ferry's last visit to Louisville was to attend her funeral.

FAMILY RETURNS TO FIND THEIR HOME RANSACKED.

The home of Philip Humbert, 1320 Frankfort avenue, was visited by thieves Thursday night and jewelry and clothing valued at $300 stolen. Among the articles taken were two savings banks, a gold watch, a diamond ring, a pair of earrings, a diamond, three scarves and a gold bracelet. The thieves were evidently hungry for the party for Christmas cake that Mrs. Humbert had made the same day. Mr. Humbert and his family had left at 9 o'clock for the residence of his father-in-law, William Johnson, at 409 Fifth street, but returned at 9 o'clock to find his residence in a topsy-turvy condition. It is thought that the burglars gained entrance to the side door by means of a skeleton key. The detectives are working on the case.

SECOND BROTHER

Given Sentence of Death On Murder Charge.

FATAL RESULT OF NEGROES' QUARREL ABOUT WOMAN.

WILL OF MRS. WILLIAM M'DERMOTT UPHOLD BY JURY.

MENTAL INCAPACITY ALLEGED.

William Green, colored, is the second member of his family to get the death penalty. He was tried in the Criminal Court yesterday on the charge of killing William Snowden, a member of his own race, and found guilty by the jury after ten minutes' deliberation.

The trouble occurred June 23 last at the saloon of "Baldy" Fleming at Newton and Walnut streets. For some time there had been feeling between the two men on account of jealousy over Annie Watson, of whom both were enamored. According to the contents of the Common Pleas and Snowden beat her.

Green took up the woman and went out to see Snowden. He was discovered in the saloon, and after a struggle, Snowden is said to have drawn a pistol. Snowden started to run, but before he could get out of the range of the defendant's fire a bullet struck him through the heart.

Green's defense was that he was threatened to kill him and that he shot only to save himself.

The prisoner is a brother of Roy Green, who, at the age of sixteen, in 1904, was found guilty of murder at Owensboro and given the death penalty. During the last year that he had killed an old white man for purposes of robbery. The man's body was found several days later on the fair grounds concealed in a booth. The case went to the Court of Appeals, but the judgment of the lower court was affirmed, and the boy was hanged.

Jury Upholds Will.

A jury in Judge Field's court upheld the will of Mrs. William McDermott, who had been contested by her sisters, Edna Brown and Alice Bateman, on the charge of mental incapacity of the testatrix and undue influence on the part of the husband. Mrs. McDermott died in March, 1906, following an operation for stomach trouble and had her will made just before she went on the operating table. It left her total estate, consisting of a house and lot on M street, to her husband. The sisters contended that Mrs. McDermott's mind had been weakened by the morphine habit, which she had developed by having to take the drug while suffering from ill health. It was averred that this had weakened her mind and that she had been influenced by her husband to make his preparation for his second marriage more than one year after his first wife's death.

Two sons, Henry and John Bachmann, and two daughters, Misses Katie and Mollie Bachmann, survive.

IN SIX CASES

Alleged Street-car Rioters Complete Their Defense.

QUESTION ASKED OF ONE WITNESS CAUSED SURPRISE.

COMMONS' NAME CONNECTED WITH ALLEGED CONSPIRACY.

TO SUBMIT ALL ACTIONS.

The cases of William Egbert, L. L. Hargis, Will Yemmer, L. R. Case, Virgil Purcell and Jacob Siebel, six of the street-car strikers charged with conspiracy to riot, were taken up in the Police Court yesterday afternoon and closed by the defense. Decisions on all the cases will be given by Judge McGee toward the end of next week.

These officers, the defending counsel were yesterday directed chiefly toward establishing alibis for the accused men at the time of the riot, and the prosecution, in a more rigid and heated cross-examination than has marked the preceding cases, directed its energies toward shaking the testimony of the witnesses in this respect. The replies were less certain and more wavering than has heretofore been the case.

At one time in the cross-examination Attorney Hill Spaulding, for the prosecution, sprang a surprise by hitting at a discussion of radical measures and a chemical testing of explosives which, it was implied, had been held in the room of Ben Commons while some of the strike leaders were there present. The defendant then on the stand, however, denied any such conversation or testing had taken place.

Question Implied Much.

While Jacob Siebel, one of the defendants, was on the witness stand telling about the meeting of the strikers' Conference Committee, of which he was one, in Ben Commons' room, at Bosler's Hotel, Hill Spaulding, prosecuting attorney, suddenly leaped forward and asked: "Now, Mr. Siebel, do you remember having said to Mr. Commons that something must be done to stop the progress of the strike against you, and that Mr. Commons replied, 'Well, then go and do something'?"

Siebel denied knowledge of such a conversation.

"Do remember hearing one of the men present ask about a certain odor in the room, an odor due to the chemical testing of an explosive upon the mantelpiece of Mr. Commons' room?"

There was a marked stir in court at this new implication, but Siebel denied that such a proceeding had taken place.

Cases All To Be Submitted.

The cases against the men were dispatched with more promptness yesterday than at any previous session of the court, six cases being completed before adjournment at 5 o'clock. The remainder of the cases will be taken up at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and it is thought they will continue into next week. Judge McGee will take all the evidence under advisement from the stenographic report and make his decision at the end of next week.

Adam Kohn, who again led the prosecution yesterday, proved more grumbling in his cross-examination than on any of the preceding days of the trial. From three to five witnesses were called in each case, and the aggressive policy on the part of the prosecuting attorneys several times elicited objections from James P. Edwards, who led the defense, and was the cause of several lively spats between him and the aggressive attorney for the prosecution. The large audience which crowded the court room was thus kept interested from start to finish.

Internal Revenue Collections.

The internal revenue collections yesterday were as follows: Lists, $3.04; beer, $11.18; whiskey, $46.47; cigars, $27.12; tobacco, $6.46; special tax stamps, $23.12; case stamps, $532.10; total, $642.92.

Gets Regular Job.

LITTLE BABY CURED OF ECZEMA

Parents Applied to Hospitals and Doctors but Could Get No Relief—Grew Worse Under Doctor's Prescription—Friends Recommended Cuticura—Result

A SPEEDY AND PERMANENT CURE

"We express to you herewith our best thanks for the cure of our baby from eczema. The eczema appeared when the child was three months old. We applied to several doctors and hospitals, each of which gave us something different every time, but nothing brought relief. A physician recommended a salve which we threw into the fire after two days' use as the eczema became worse so that the baby scratched his face. At last, one of our friends recommended to us Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. A few days afterwards improvement could be noted. Since then we have used nothing but Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and now the baby is six months old and is quite cured. All that we used was one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes Cuticura Ointment, costing in all $1.25. Even the poorest man can pay that. Instead of throwing it into the doctor's lap, I myself only made twelve dollars a week as a teamster, but I recommend the Cuticura Remedies strongly to all mothers whose children suffer from such diseases. They are cheap, harmless and cure. Write to J. C. F. Keen and W. G. R. E. Co., 65th Street, New York, March 30, 1906."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Form of Eczema, Itch, and All kinds of Skin Diseases. Cuticura Soap, 15¢; Cuticura Ointment, 25¢. Sold by all druggists. Write for Free Booklet. Sold by mail for $1.00. J. C. F. Keen and W. G. R. E. Co., 65th Street, New York, March 30, 1906.

FOR SORE HANDS

Soak the hands in retiring, in a hot, creamy lather of Cuticura Soap. Dry and anoint freely with Cuticura Ointment, and in severe cases spread the Ointment on this piece of old linen or cotton. Wear during the night old, loose, kid gloves, with the finger ends cut off and holes cut in the palms, or a light bandage of old cotton.

Union Mission Society, Uniontown, Ky., Dec. 4.—[Special.]—The women of the Paducah presbytery closed a two days' convention at Morgantown last night for the purpose of forming a union missionary society. Miss Molly Chambers delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by Mrs. Robert Dixon, of Henderson. The Rev. Dr. Caldwell, of China, delivered an address, and a reception was given at the Presbyterian home yesterday. Miss F. C. McQuinn, of Louisville, conducted the services, and a number of delegates from Henderson and Paducah were present.

Is Too Much Money Harmful to American Women?

"When our foreign critics speak of the American woman they have in mind the wives and daughters of unwisely chivalrous men, who have blindly allowed their women folk to pursue ignorant and half-baked ideals of emancipation."

"Almost without exception, her attempts at a career have been futile, and often they have been notably, even pathetically, ridiculous."

"Lacking all vital contact with life, ignorant of all the deeper wells of human impulse, her mind and her very good looks are as superficial and as trivial as her activities."
